THE GRODEN NETWORK "YOUR AUTISM EXPERTS" FAMILY OF PROGRAMS

THE GRODEN NETWORK is the leading non-profit organization in Rhode Island providing direct services, treatment and educational programs for children, adolescence and adults with autism and developmental disabilities. The Network of programs provides quality service to over 800 clients and includes:

- The Groden Center – provides day and residential programs for children and adolescents
- The Cove Center – provides day and residential programs for adults
- The Halcyon Center – provides vocational and residential support programs for adults in southern Massachusetts

THE AUTISM SOCIETY: RHODE ISLAND CHAPTER

The Autism Society, RI Chapter was re-established in November of 2005 in order to facilitate advocacy, support and communication.

All money raised by the RI Chapter of the Autism Society goes towards programs and services benefitting persons with autism.

The goals of the Autism Society, RI Chapter are to:

- Enhance community awareness, acceptance, and participation of individuals with autism
- Support ALEC-RI (Autism and Law Enforcement Education Coalition), which provides training to First Responders.
