In-Home Service Providers Make a Difference!

We are looking for people to work as in-home service providers throughout Rhode Island. In-home service providers work with children of all ages with disabilities and their families. They assist with their personal care needs and everyday activities – making it possible for them to live independently.

Individuals and families throughout Rhode Island use www.RewardingWork.org to find and hire workers like you! This online resource is sponsored by the Rhode Island Executive Office of Health and Human Services.

What an In-Home Service Provider Does:

As an in-home service provider, you'll help children with disabilities go about and enjoy their everyday lives – at home and in their communities. Some of the activities of daily living you may help with include the following:

- Dressing and grooming
- Personal care
- Transportation to appointments
- Recreational activities

Jobs Available throughout Rhode Island

Individuals and families use www.RewardingWork.org to find and hire people like you. Positions are flexible and available on a part- or full-time basis – early mornings, days, evenings and weekends. There also may be overnight or live-in positions.

Rhode Island residents often hire in-home service providers with funding from the following programs: Personal Choice (to assist people with disabilities and elders); Pass (families of children with special needs); and Respite (primary caregivers seeking time off).
